5. Description of physical appearance: The building identified as 624 N. Eutaw Street is a three story brick building with 1/3 basement and a flat roof. The front elevation has a wooden store front with prominent metal cornice and transom on 1st floor and a small recessed lobby entrance with separate door leading to 2nd and 3rd floors. Windows are one over one wooden type with front elevation featuring splayed brick flat arch lintel on 2nd floor windows.

This building is rectangular and is vacant. The 2nd and 3rd floors contain a series of non-descript rooms which have been used as offices.

No features on the inside are worthy of preservation.

Date of Construction: Circa 1850 Source of Date: CHAP (Commission on Historic & Architectural Preservation)

Date(s) of Alteration(s): _____

Has building been moved? ☐ yes ☒ no. If so, when? _____

Statement of significance: The building represents an intact grouping of architecturally significant residential and commercial structures built between 1840 and 1900 in the Seton Hill Community of Baltimore City. Seton Hill is architecturally significant as one of Baltimore's earliest intact rowhouse neighborhoods. Historically, the area is linked to Saint Mary's Seminary, the first Catholic Seminary in the United States and Elizabeth Ann Seton, the first American canonized Saint. Mother Seton was also the founder of the Sisters of Charity, the first order of nuns founded in this country. While most of the designers of housing in Seton Hill are unknown, the master architect, Maximillian Godefrey, was responsible for the Saint Mary's Seminary Chapel. This building is recognized to be the first significant Gothic Revival church built in America. The small houses of Seton Hill, the juxtaposition of commercial and residential buildings along main thoroughfares, the changes and alterations that individual buildings and the community in general have gone through in the early twentieth century and the community's association with the early nineteenth century development of the Catholic Church in Baltimore has yielded important information on the growth and change of local neighborhoods throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.
